CompuRecycling Center Announces Medical Ascension Wednesday Workshops

CompuRecycling Center
1719 George Abraham Blvd
Greenville, MS 38704

DURING THE UPCOMING 2021 HOLIDAY BREAK

Back by popular demand, CompuRecycling Center, Incorporated which is a 501(c)3 community based organization in Greenville, Mississippi, announces the third installment of its healthcare pipeline program called Medical Ascension: Wednesday Workshops. Medical Ascension Wednesday Workshops will occur during this upcoming Holiday Break for 7th, 8th, & 9th grade students on December 22 and December 29. Wednesday Workshops are designed to inspire and enrich student interest in medicine, healthcare professions, and health science. During the workshops, students will gain hands-on exposure to healthcare, learn valuable clinical skills, and respond to real-world medical scenarios. Students will also learn the risks of untreated illnesses, how to diagnose common eye diseases, and more. Due to very limited seats, parents are encouraged to complete the registration requirements as soon as possible. Student enrollment will be determined via a first come then first serve process. Parents can register their children online via compurecyclingcenter.org/medicalascension. For questions, parents are encouraged to call 662.335.2060 between 10am to 2pm or send an email to compurecyclingcenter@gmail.com.
